SMART OCR

SmartOCR is the next level of text recognition from the standard zonal approach. No pre-defined zones, all required information are intelligently located in the document dramatically improving the business processes. Critical information can be also validated with the Verification module or automatically with third party ERP systems for a full business process control.

Processing

Create a set of rules based on patterns to automatically locate any piece of information required, in any language, on any document format. All rules will be available in the general business workflow as workflows variables.

With an easy learning system the patterns can always improve time by time, continuously improving the recognition accuracy. For scenarios where security matters, sensitive data can be automatically redacted once located and extracted in the variables.

SmartOCR module is available as standard in any Enterprise licenses.
